I'm a knowledgeable Full-Stack Web Developer that brings fun and passion with thorough comprehension of complex HTML, CSS and JavaScript concepts along with subsequent frameworks such and Express and React to generate custom webpage design.

Projects

Reptland 2

Reptland was my favorite project to work on by far. My wife and I are reptile enthusiasts and when I got the idea to create a social media platform for those who share our love I couldn't stop. I used the MERN stack on this project. MongoDB, Express, ReactJS, and Node. I chose MongoDB as my database because I wanted to experiment with noSQL and it was actually really fun and insightful. I created my own api for my back end and used middleware such as PassportJS for authentication and multer/AWS S3 for media uploads. The experience I gained from this project was crucial to my development as a fulstack developer. GitHub

Private Events ☑

This project uses Ruby and Ruby on Rails with an SQLite3 database. This project shows my understanding of database management and frameworks along with concepts such as joining data tables and HTTP request routing. GitHub 🗅

Crypto API

Built using the React framework and vanilla CSS this project showcases my ability to learn and work in many concepts such as hooks, state management, and different frameworks along with understanding of navigating a 3rd party API. GitHub
